Dear Friends in Christ,

Time seems to move so fast these days. March 5 is Ash Wednesday, and then the season of Lent begins. It seems like the wise men just came, and of course, the way the liturgical calendar runs, they DID just come! There are 8 weeks between Epiphany, when the wise men appeared, and Lent. That is because Jesus was crucified during Passover, which always occurs in the spring, and even though scripture indicates Jesus was born in the spring (i.e., shepherds watching o'er the flocks by night because the ewes were lambing), the early church moved his birth to coincide with pagan winter solstice celebrations. It is believed that the emperor Aurelian in 274 A.D. set the birth date of the Invincible Sun as December 25, the day of the winter solstice in the Roman calendar. This celebration was part of a 7 day Roman holiday season called Saturnalia, which included parties and the exchange of gifts.

In the first third of the 4th century A.D., the early Christian church co-opted the celebration of the Invincible Sun as Jesus' birth date. The early Church linked Jesus Christ to the Sun and referred to him as the "true Sun" or the "Sun of Righteousness" prophesied by Malachi. Augustine, in the 4th century, said, "Let us ... keep this day with due solemnity; not, like those who are without faith, on account of the Sun, but because of Him who made the Sun. ... He, incarnate, stands above that Sun which is worshipped as a god."

So that moves the celebration of Jesus' birth and his crucifixion very close together on our liturgical calendar. After Eastertide and Pentecost, we move to "ordinary" time (meaning only that the weeks are numbered; i.e., ordinal) for a long period until Advent comes again. March will be a busy time of moving into Lent, and then we will slow down during those 40 days and ponder our faith as we look at repentance and Jesus' walk toward the cross.

Yours in Christ,

Jeanne

After Covid started, he really didn't get out to see people and I think he missed that and with progressive hearing loss, he had difficulty keeping up with phone calls. He read all the cards and kept them. Also, I wanted to Thank you for the support you have given Rick and I during these last few months. Thank you for your thoughts, cards, love and prayers. We have felt the love and prayers so much. Kathie Pierce
